

"SEX-REFLECTIVITY"

"It is terrible when people ignore everything not just about the social world but their own universe.

The same could be said about artists who are blind to their own artistic interests.

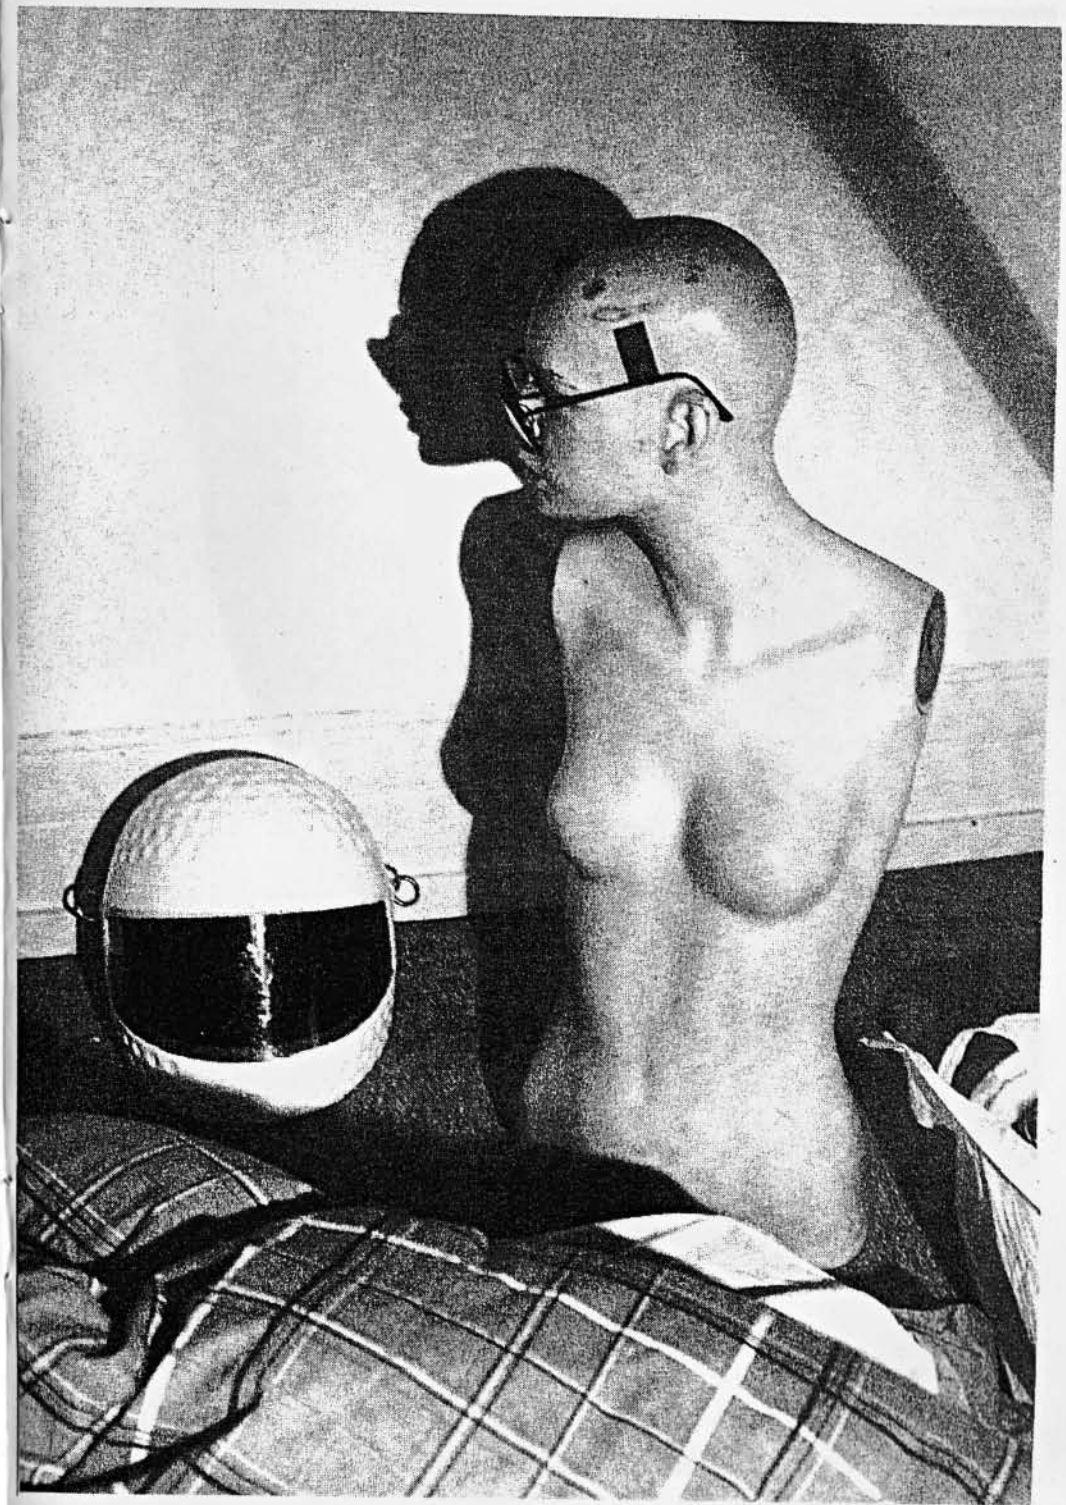

Blind about the things they can not say.

When these artists demystify the artistic gesture, the artistic activity, they create a whole new artistic gesture as a result.

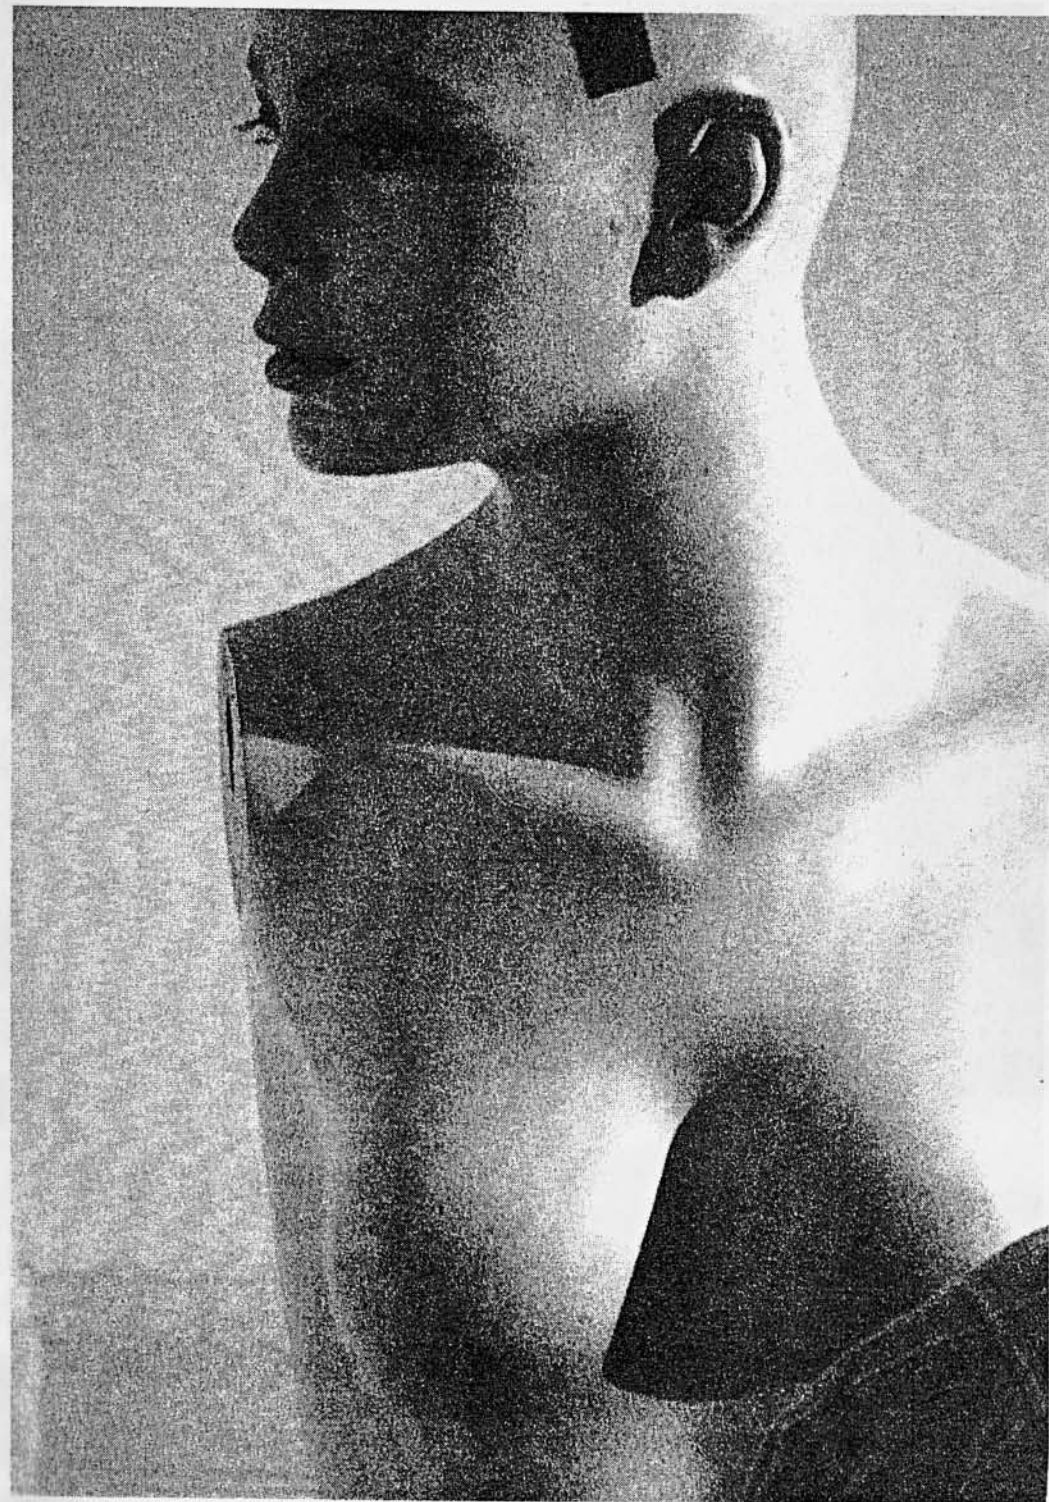

So I think that there can never be too much..." sex- "...reflection.

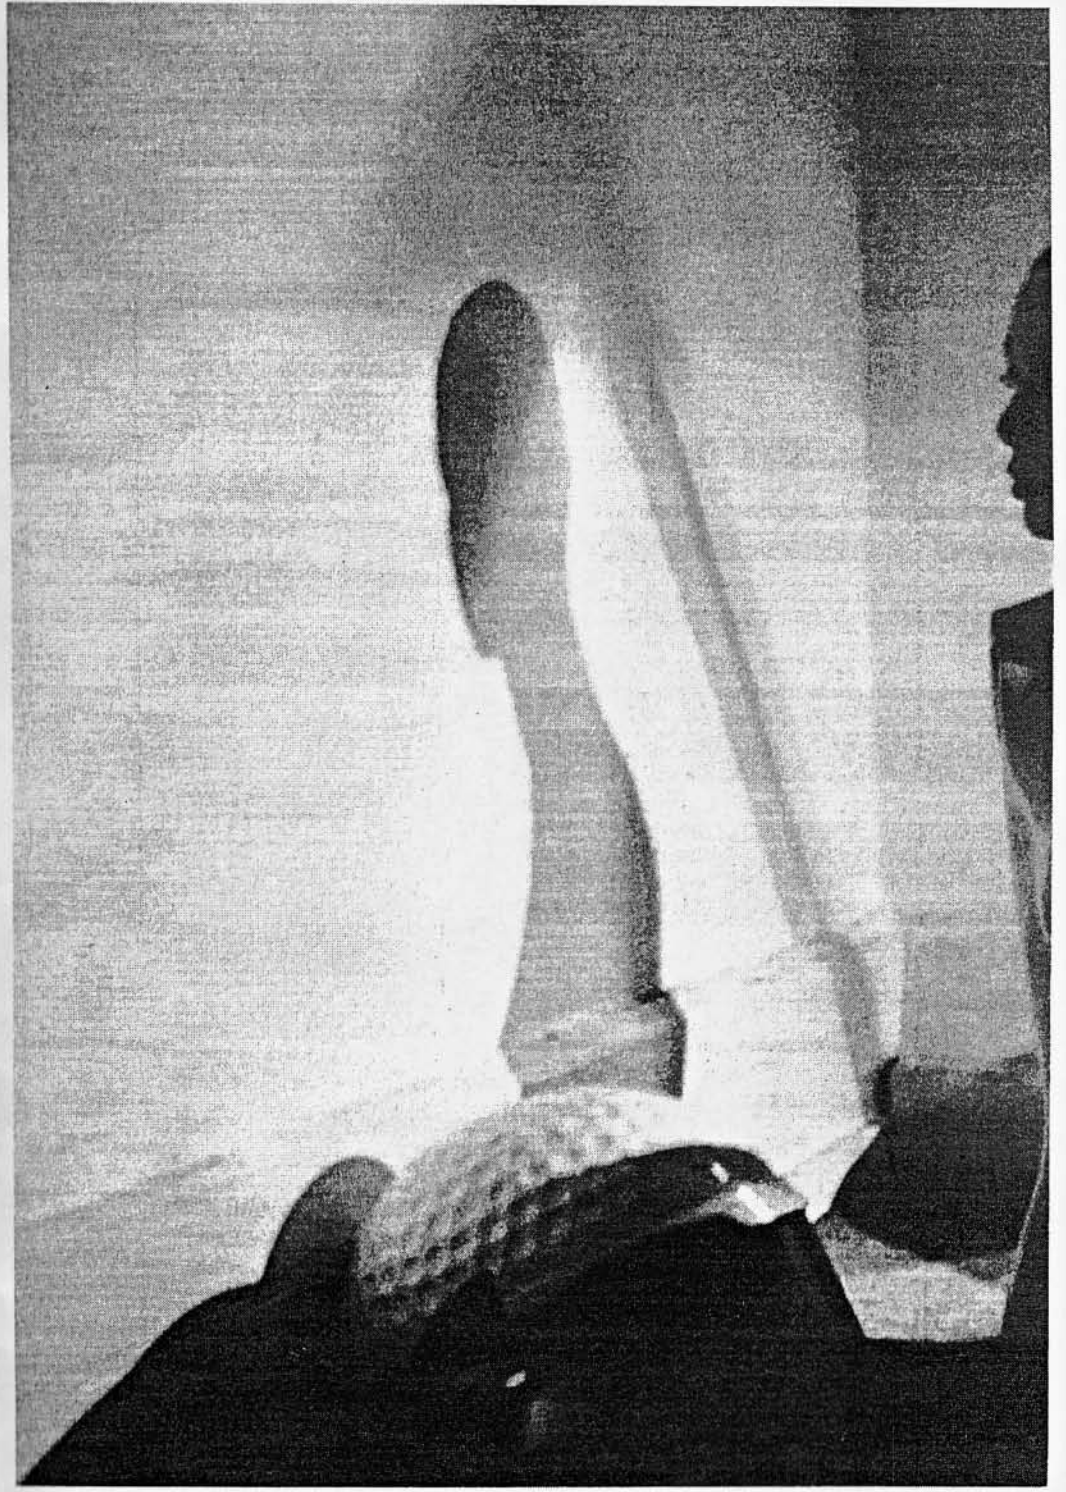

And by this I don't mean the self-congratulatory kind - that one is terrible - but the kind that is efficient and productive, not aimed at hurting.

Its aim should not be to attack."

'sex-reflectivity'

made for 'sex-reflectivity' at Caribic, Frankfurt-am-Main

Mathieu Malouf 2009